Order and beauty of the One Life

The 9 and the mystical number 52 of Thoth

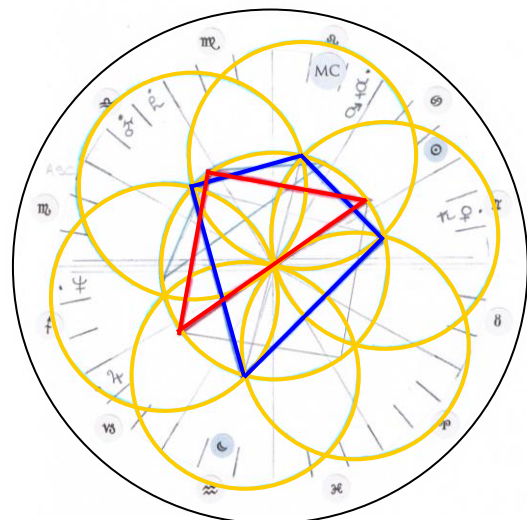

Gert Kramer

Long ago, Humanity in its current, wondrous cosmic form was created in the image of El and Asherah, the God and Goddess that are One in Spirit. She, who was considered to be the Pearl of Creation, was to become the steward of our planet Earth. In her current state of unconsciousness, in her disconnect from All That Is, she through the times has created a reality of which all of Gaia's inhabitants are experiencing the consequences. I gladly leave it up to you what you think about this reality and how you perceive this personally. This reality is experienced by me as unbalanced, inharmonious and destructive. It has encouraged me to search for new answers. As the proverb says: "Seek and thou shall find."

I would like to share with you a statement frequently mentioned by my father in my life: "He who conquers himself is stronger than who taketh a city". That's exactly how I have experienced the past few years in which the 'victory' happened through 'surrender and embrace'. I write this article in the tradition of the Freemasons, by freely sharing with you some of the insights and perspectives that I have recently gained. Insights that address questions like: "Who am I?", "How do my Environment and I relate to each other?", Ordo ab Chao and E Pluribus Unum. The language in which I write is the language of Spiritual Science. In my personal experience I consider everything to be true but someone else's truth doesn't need to be mine as well as the other way around. My concern is not to convince you of anything but simply to share my 'truths' with you, fully knowing that they can sometimes be perceived as quite firm and confronting. However, the only evolution comes from within and can never be permanently imposed on to you from the outside. So I ask you, as the reader, to create a type of "what if?" island in your mind and to read all that has been entrusted by me to this paper, in this 'open minded state' of being. "He who has ears to hear, let him hear!"

Everything that happens, in my opinion, happens for a reason. If even one small detail would have gone differently, if one single choice was made differently, then all that we experience today would be completely different. Where we find ourselves today in space and time, was all made possible by everything that has taken place in connection with each other before and even by that what still has to happen. In South Africa they call this Ubuntu: I am because we are. I hereby express my deepest gratitude to all of those who have made all of that possible, each in his or her role on the stage of the 'Theater of Life' where all life lessons are learned. How? Simply by experiencing and then sharing those experiences in all openness and without any restraint. I would like to send a special thank you out to my wife Francine, my Mary and Asherah, and my children Gijs, Juliette and Eleonor, for all the support they have given me during this sometimes very intense transformation process, especially during those moments when the Kundalini energy in full force worked itself through my body and spirit. I also thank all the others, visible and invisible to the human senses, for their kindness, patience and support.

Revelations 12:1 My Heavenly Mary

Old sighs and says to New
once I was just like you:
Young, strong and healthy
New smiled
and says to Old:
Once I was just like you:
Grey, wise and forgotten
Old doesn't understand at all
But you're as good as new!?
You just wait, New answered:
Your time will come

There is a time...

Why has my writing reached you at this particular time? The Wise King Solomon said long ago: “There is an appointed time for everything. And there is a time for every event under heaven ~ A time to give birth, and a time to die, a time to tear down, and a time to build up, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time of peace.” We are now entering a new era: the time of the Water Bearer Aquarius. The time of Oannis’ Revelations has arrived and with it comes the fulfillment of ancient prophecies. What has long been hidden in darkness is now brought in the Light and available for everyone to see. Coinciding with this, everything Humanity has embraced as its ‘truths’ in the past, is now lovingly, yet strongly being questioned and many of Humanity’s current ‘assumptions’ therefore will be replaced by new ones. With all of the consequences that a shift like this will bring, Shiva and Shakti are One; destruction is at the service of creation. For a very long time now, Humanity, in order to come to a better understanding, has been operating by definition, containment, fragmentation and by labeling the defined areas. Now the time has come to see the connection between all of the different dots, to tear down our self-imposed barriers and to see the Oneness in All that our Cosmic Life Is.

It seems it is always a series of assumptions that form the basis of any reality, of any sphere. Philosophical spiritual assumptions of good versus evil, light versus dark, heaven versus earth, man versus woman, movement versus stillness, life versus death and plus versus minus. Also included are the ‘scientific’ assumptions like those of a straightforward decimal numeral system. Realities are interwoven with these assumptions. The various principles which are all based on these assumptions determine what is in our ‘box’ of feelings, thoughts, the place where we consider perspectives, take action and justify our actions. Over time, many assumptions become implicit truths. We simply forget that this was once devised or thought up by man and later proclaimed to be and adopted as truth. Any observations deemed inappropriate or not fitting within these assumptions are often simply ignored or in fear of embracing the unknown suppressed with great physical and/or mental cruelty. Is the earth flat or is it spherical? Is it the earth or the sun that is central? Do our planets move in an ellipse around a stationary sun or in a spiral movement behind a sun that moves through the cosmos in one big ‘musica mundana’? At the core of each reality there are always a few basic assumptions from which all other realities are derived. The dominant reality that the majority of humanity is still experiencing today is a self-conflicting form of dualism based on the assumption of good versus evil. Moreover, within our current reality in which all situations are created by ourselves, the solutions we seek to resolve these are becoming increasingly more complex. Albert Einstein clearly voiced his opinions on this in his quote about the ‘intelligent fool’.

Have the assumptions, on which our current dominant reality is based, always been the world's leading assumptions? In this article I want to show you that this is not the case. That we have a choice in what assumptions we wish to embrace. This is the basis of the phenomenon of ‘Free Will’. Through the ages many known and lesser known people, have experienced or witnessed from other levels of consciousness another reality and shared and used it as a basis to create. Harmonious societies such as, for example, that of the Nazarenes, the Cathar and the Mayans were founded on it. All over the world, and across the recent millennia, this other reality known as Cosmic, Christ or Unity Consciousness has been recorded and passed on to future generations through images and symbols, stories, traditions and rituals. The numbers used herein play a very important role. The concept that ‘All is One and this One is in All’ is already well known by those taught within the Hermetic Tradition or in other similar philosophies in other parts of the world.

The lemniscate, symbol of the infinite

The eternal recurrence

Everything is energy. This energy has an electromagnetic basic principle with a vibration / frequency and a transverse and scalar propagation direction. Everything that vibrates carries information in it. Each frequency can be defined and established as a number and at the same time it can be experienced as a particular kind of emotion, by both the creating source as well as the environment around this source.

Communication is the generation, transmission and reception of vibration and thereby the sharing of information or in other words emotions. The ability to translate vibrational information is determined by the range, the sensitivity and the translation module of your receiving and transmitting station and can therefore be compared to a radio station.

You can cut the One into all kinds of bandwidths, divide it into endless little pieces and give each piece a different label, everything is and remains energy, whether it is an X-ray, light, sound or matter. It is no coincidence that the Chinese call our bodies 'frozen light'. Just because you cannot see something does not mean that it does not exist. Something can simply be too large for someone to perceive it or too small for them to comprehend it. This is where relativity enters the picture. If the difference between the 'state' of the observer and the 'state' of the observed increases, it will become increasingly difficult for one to merge with the other.

The One that is All, is Conscious. Because the One is in Everything, Everything is Conscious. Within this One there are different levels of Awareness, which we also call spheres or dimensions. The vibrational level or the frequency you tune into determines the Consciousness that is experienced and therefore the degree of 'complexity' of Chaos that can be understood. This shows itself in:

your reiki ability, your outlook, how far and how sharp do you "see";
your comprehension, how much can you take in;
your processing ability, how can you process;

your responsiveness, how and how fast you respond;
your adaptability, how quickly you adjust to new situations;
your Connection ability; your ability to connect 'Spheres'.

An increase in Consciousness is an increase in all of these different abilities which energetically have to do with amplitude, frequency, range, direction of propagation, and last but not least, coordination and an active connection or in other words 'neurons that fire together, wire together'.

The degree to which someone can 'helicopter' and (simultaneously) go into the details to then put together the overall puzzle of the whole, is a good example of Consciousness. A computer game where you constantly have to learn new skills and execute them before you can advance to the next, more complex level is another good example. Without mastering the (basic) skills you don't stand a chance to function properly at a higher level anyway.

A third example of this is for instance a person receiving a promotion within an organization too late or sometimes too early. Once your own consciousness has developed and reached a certain level of vibration or frequency than you can 'feel' that you're ready to take the next step. If the promotion comes too late this person can become frustrated. He will become disharmonious with himself and his environment. If the promotion comes too early then a huge insecurity ergo disharmony can arise because his frequency has not yet coincided with the consciousness that is needed to fulfill the new position. The fact that he cannot handle the new position comes to light in things like being unable to connect with colleagues at this new level or that he feels he cannot keep up. He does not feel 'in sync' with the vibrations around him.

Meditation, finding the 'Silence', contributes greatly to tuning your various 'Octaves of Consciousness' in harmony.

Nature manifests in curved shapes

It is as if you increase the clock speed on your computer when you go to a higher octave. You even experience the phenomenon of ‘time’ differently. The word focus indicates that we are speaking about concentration. Concentration of what? Well, of your thought waves so you can communicate at a higher level. Focused on what exactly? Aimed on finding an answer by tuning in, sending and then receiving. Where and how do you find that answer? Inside of you and in all that surrounds you. In order to do this, the ‘chaotic’ state of the mind and brain when it is busy with basic daily activities is insufficient, better yet, the mind and brain are actually ‘in the way’.

Aligning the Chakras as well as the functioning of the Heart, which is capable of receiving and generating the higher vibrational levels of pure Love and Compassion is a requirement to help enable the antenna and the radio station in our body to work properly so that one can make contact with our ‘higher’ Self.

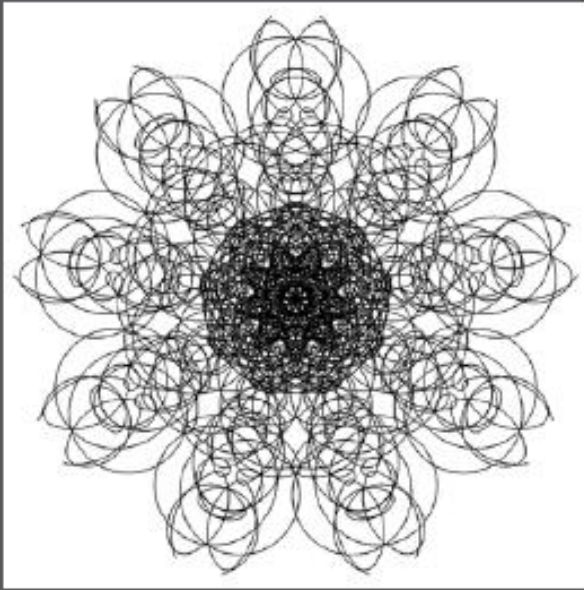

Receiving and integrating the vibes from the ‘Holy Spirit’ in the ‘Holy Body’ or to bring Light (Dharma) into the relative Dark (Adharma) is a very sensitive process that needs proper guidance in order to prevent any physical ‘damage’. Damage that could even result in death. This is why in ancient times the ‘mystery schools’ were created to help guide students in this process.

‘Talking to God’ is a communication process that doesn’t take place in the Mind but through your Essence, through the Holy Spirit that resides in your Heart. Dreams, Thoughts and following Action articulate the process whereby the frequency is reduced continuously so that the Idea or Thought can manifest itself into a physical form within this ‘thick syrupy’ 3D reality.

‘As above, so below; as below, so above’ is one of the Hermetic Principles. From the energetic principle that like attracts like, the emotions that you as Source emit completely determine what you attract as mirroring experiences. After all, experiences are energetically built up situations.

Your highest vibrations are surrounded by your lowest vibrations just like the nucleus of an egg is surrounded by its hard shell. For your evolution as a whole, the lowest vibration levels require your attention first. Fear, hatred and anger have lower vibrational levels than Love and Compassion. The transformation of lower vibrational emotions, once linked by you to certain experiences, to higher vibrational emotions (for example the ‘thank you’ emotion) is very decisive for what you as Creator emit as the core of your own Reality. What insights are at your disposal to change your own views? That depends on your own Consciousness ergo vibrational level which is shown by your ‘intentions’, your image creating ‘visualization ability’ and the power of your radiostation in other words your ‘willpower’.

‘Ordo ab Chao’, one cosmic creation principle for all Manifestations of Life. Can you imagine the impact on the contemporary religions and philosophies, the spiritual occult societies and science when it is revealed that all of their main traditions, stories, customs, architecture, art, rituals and numbers, all irrefutably refer to the same creation principle? If it turns out that this principle was already well known around the world and used in many of the civilizations that have since disappeared from this Earth? That this principle was also articulated in the Tabula Smaragdina and the Hermetic Principles. That Dragons and Naga, the wise winged Serpents, wanted to pass on this principle as their most important Wisdom of Life to young Humanity. When it comes out that the Royal Road, the Tarot with its immortal Magician, contains the wisdoms and the mysteries of Isis and Thoth. Isis as in Inanna, Ishtar, Ashtar, and Aphrodite. Thoth as Tehuti (he who balances), Ningishzidda, Quetzalcoatl, Hermes and Myrddin. That there is such a thing as a ‘geometric toolkit’ from the ‘Great Architect’.

The nine pointed star symbolizes a nine based spiritual-mathematical system. This system consists of nine source numbers each with its own characteristics

The magic of the numbers of Pythagoras and Fibonacci is visible everywhere

That this principle can also be found in modern day science, as long as you look through a certain kind of glasses. If it turns out that all of Nature on Earth, of which the relatively young and unconscious Humanity is also a part, yes that even the entire Cosmos (logically) unfolds according to this One Principle. If Ein Söf and Da'at are not fabrications but instead articulate a deep inner knowledge?

What will the effect be on our reality of re-understanding and using a simple yet crucial key, once lost to Humanity? A Key that brings to light a gorgeous Balance, Unity and Beauty of All That Is. That by simply and structurally applying this principle, we can create the New Jerusalem, an unprecedented inner balance based peace, cooperation and a resulting harmony and abundance, a truly Paradise on Earth for all as new reality? Is that frightening or liberating to you? Your personal 'Judgement Day'?

Whatever emotions you want to link to this experience, I leave up to you. After all, your selfchosen assumptions determine your personal reality.

I do want to ask you, however, how the prospect of knowing great abundance without the fear of losing it feels to you. Destructive at the expense of disrupting, collecting, having and securing will then hopefully be something of the past really soon. A collective behavioral change; 'from having to sharing to being'!

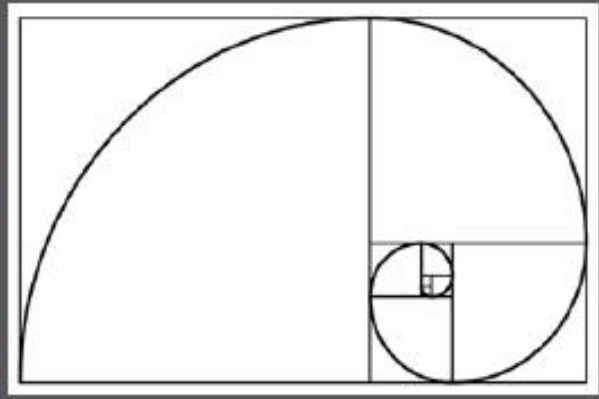

The Nine that are One, together are responsible for Ma'at, cosmic balance. In Cosmic Energetics, evolution is not a material process but an energetic process of refinement. It is about getting a new vibrational level in other words a new State of Consciousness associated with the mental and physical adjustments. In scientific wording gaining an ever-increasing degree of ionization associated with higher levels of vibration ergo frequencies as well as a different perception of time. That is as well the essence of the Kundalini process where increasingly higher frequency energies run along your spine from bottom to top over drilling through your Chakras as they align and transform these.

According to the Wise Pythagoras everything works numbers. We have therefore arrived at the mathematics, the noble language that makes it possible to reach the highest level of abstraction within philosophy. This language is used to better understand what we observe around us and then apply it to our own creations.

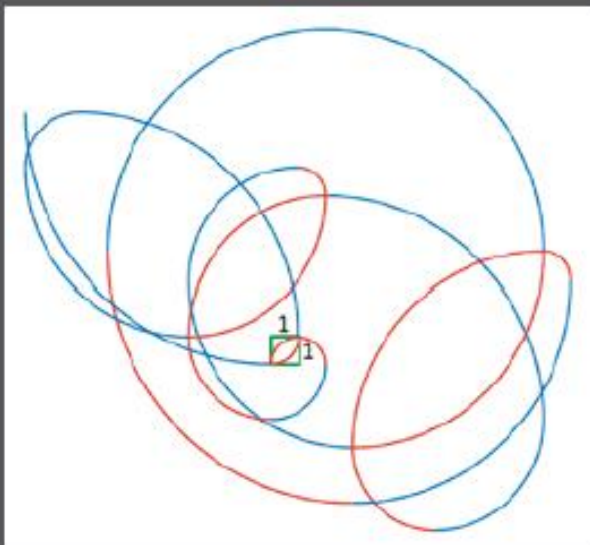

The title of this section refers to an old religious principle from Heliopolis in Egypt based on the Ennead, the nine as in 9 source numbers. Is this perhaps why in Hinduism the nine star also known as the Nine Pointed Star is the main symbol? Could it be that that we, by only using the linear decimal system, have blinded ourselves for certain ancient existential insights? Insights that our ancestors did have because they dealt with numbers in a different way, yes even attributed these the different characteristics of Life?

The Nine Pointed Star represents a nine based spiritual -mathematical system. This system has nine source numbers each with their own characteristics. All other numbers come forth from this as higher orders. Can a nine based system change the Chaos experienced by so many (a relative 'state of mind' and not more than that) into Order by revealing the underlying repetitive structures, regularity, sequences and patterns? So that, for example, the order in the distribution of primes over the natural numbers is visible? Is that why so many nines appear in the ancient texts and rituals? This while the number 10 rarely appears (in an extract of the Egyptian Book of the Dead known as the 10 Commandments).

Is this why hundreds of years ago Lichtenberg wrote that in the philosophy of an Angel 2×2 equals 13? Because you only have to add together the ciphers of which a number is composed in order to calculate the correct source number. And 13 thus becomes the first higher order of the number 4. And as well because you can so easily verify both large additions as well as complex multiplications.

Does a nine based system transform the by many experienced Chaos into Order by revealing the underlying repetitive structures?

Did our ancestors in addition to a numerical approach also use a non-linear cosmic form as the foundation of their approach to life; a form that they observed everywhere? A straight line just cannot be found within a curvatures based Nature. It is just a simplification for the reality that surrounds us.

Was this Key applied long ago to the spiral form we see everywhere in the World and in our visible Universe, the same shape that also forms the basis of the Golden Mean? Are the words in spiritus and inspired derived from in spiral? Was that the reason for King Solomon to use spiral columns both going in a clockwise and counterclockwise direction? Is that the reason why among others in the Templars Cathedrals pillars were designed and constructed in this way? Are these pairwise entrance pillars based on a certain wisdom of life?

What reality changing, and us to immortally uplifting insights do we obtain if we apply this Key to the famous spiral shape known as the Fibonacci sequence? A sequence which is easily built up by continually adding the last two numbers together. A sequence that, as said in tradition, was taught in the Arab world by Leonardo Pisano (aka Fibonacci) as an answer to the question of how to determine the growth of a rabbit population. A sequence which also corresponds to the harmonic tones found in music, discovered by Pythagoras by listening, through splitting a music snare into two parts. A sequence we can also find everywhere in the on optimization of input and output based Nature. How? By counting the number of spirals in spirally built structures. Yet realize that multiple source sequences can be constructed. How many? Lao Tse teaches us this with the Tao Te Ching.

Below are the results of returning the Fibonacci sequence to the nine source numbers.

Let's go back to our "what if?" Island for a moment and assume that numbers in the mythological, spiritually religious and philosophical areas were chosen by its writers for a good reason. Otherwise they obviously would have chosen another number. Below you will find a few examples from the collective global Human History.

- 12: Number of Gods in the Mesopotamian and Greek cultures
- 24 : Number of Thrones around the Central Throne in Oannis' Book of Revelation
- 52: Mystical number of Thoth and Quetzalcoatl
- 72: Names of God in Judaism. All names consist of 3 letters
Number of Confucius' disciples
Period that Lao Tzu was in his mother's belly
Number of temples at Angkor, Cambodia
The Borobudur on Java has 9 terraces adorned with a total of 504 Buddha statues, 432 on the Rupadhatu level and 72 at the level Arupadhatu
The main Krishna temple in Dwarka is built on 72 pillars
Very important number in Chinese secret societies
The sentur, a Persian musical instrument, has 72 strings
Osiris was killed by Seth and 72 accomplices according to tradition
The Prophet said in a Hadith: "After me , the community (Ummah) is divided into 73 sects, of which 72 will die and will one will be saved."
- 81: The number of verses in the Tao Te Ching
- 99: The number of names for God mentioned in the Quran

- 108 : Hindu and Buddhist cosmology, number of names for gods, number of temples, statues, structures and virtues.
The 10,800 stones of the Indian fire altar Agnicayena built during a 12-day ceremony
Traditions within the Rosicrucians talk about cycles of 108 years in which the secret society shows its influence
108 is the number of beads in the Hindu and Buddhist rosary
- 117: The number of scales of Chinese Dragons divided into 81 and 36 Yin Yang scales
- 135: Number of bronze discs of the Arago Rose Line by Jan Dibbets in honor of François Arago
- 216: The Heart of the King's Chamber in the Pyramid of Giza :
 $3^3 + 4^3 + 5^3 = 27 + 64 + 125 = 216$
- 432: The number of syllables in the Rig - Veda, the oldest Vedic scriptures, is 432,000
The base number of the Indian Kali Yuga, the cosmic 'consciousness seasons' or World Ages
The Icelandic Eddas speaks of 432,000 fighters who at the end of this cycle at the Day of the Wolf storm through 540 doors out of Othin's Hall of Heroes
- 666 : The Number of Man according to the Book of Revelation (the perfect triangle with 3 x 60 degrees)
- 999: The highest achievable, the perfection and completion of a cycle of events
The value of Genesis 1:1 'Brayshith Elohim' whose translation reads 'In the beginning the Gods'
- 7-2 : The division of the Mesoamerican 'Lords of the Night' in 7 Gods and 2 Goddesses

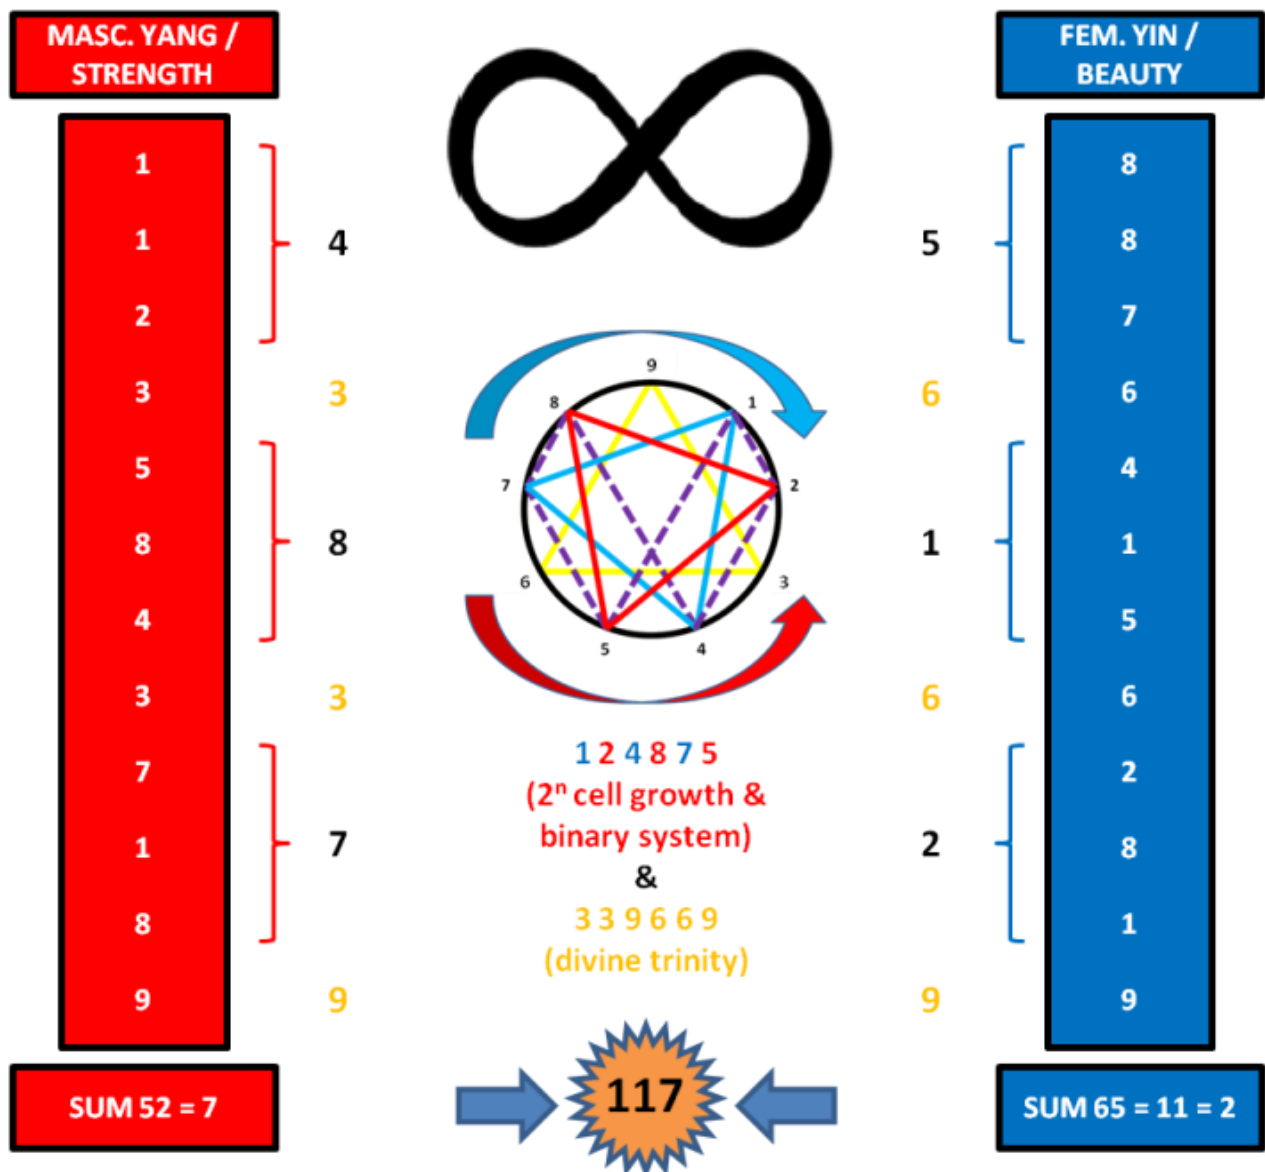

If all these numbers refer to the same Source, then in my perception this Source must very important. Why else go to such lengths to hide insights and wisdoms for so many generations and/or pass these on yes even through the ages wage huge wars to again gain access to these ancient insights. Knowledge equals power, it is said. But what is done with this power depends on the Awareness Level of the recipient of this Knowledge. Ruling and controlling power games with the permanent fear of losing everything, including finite Life itself or facilitation of a collective growth knowing that your Essence is immortal. Are we then perchance speaking of the 'Source of Life' of which on the ancient Sumerian clay tablets is said that it was discovered by Enki and used to create current Humanity. Were our 'Gods' astronauts after all?

Can all these numbers be linked to each other in a repetitive, merging into each other series of 2x12 perfectly balanced numbers? The 24 Thrones from the Book of Revelation of which the Fibonacci sequence that starts with the numbers 1 and 1 is at the core? Does the origin and the importance of the neutral and facilitative number 9, being both Yin and Yang, the Silence from which all Movement arises, a again becomes visible and proven? To facilitate Mankind in the rediscovery of the Creator Source within Itself? Yes and I invite you personally to, using the following two figures, gain further insights and in this way experience the mystical number of Thoth, the Perfect Balance, the Cosmic Beauty of All That Is, the Order in the Chaos and the Unity in the Multiplicity.

Freemasons, Brahmins, Sufis, Shamans, Muftis, Imams, Rabbis, Yogis, Gurus, Rastafarians, Qigong Masters, Pastors, Priests, Medicine women and men, Magicians, Witches, Theosophists, Religions and Spiritual Societies, Scientists and all those not mentioned by title in this world. I invite you all to tear down all defensive walls erected by you which may have even become your prisons, to open your hearts and (hidden) libraries and without any restraint freely make available the experience you have gained in Love, Wisdom and Knowledge to the Hearts and Souls to Humanity. Not only to build your own Center with Love and Compassion but an entire City, World, Universe and thus your own Reality! This is the New Jerusalem, the one talked about for so long in different words and stories . If I could do magic than Love will reveal itself as The Truth and The Truth as Love.

‘All is One and One is in All.’

“Any intelligent fool can make things bigger, more complex and more violent. It takes a touch of genius - and a lot of courage - to move in the opposite direction.”

Albert Einstein

The visionary as shibboleth

People with a visionary message often have the effect of a shibboleth. You let yourself get carried away by the waves of their imagination, or you throw off the anchor of reason to keep you standing in their verbiage. For the one, they speak a word of recognition (the meaning of shibboleth), for the other they are unintelligible.

Voice in the wilderness or orator on the mountain? John the Evangelist or John the Baptist? His outward appearance makes Gert Kramer come across as a prophet. One of his lectures for young freemasons was experienced as so prophetic that the recommendation was given for an article in Thoth. A Theory of All: that sounds too good to in advance be set aside as irrational. Einstein nor the contemporary theoretical physicists have found such a 'Unified Field Theory' but if Gert Kramer has his way, humanity soon will sit with God at the controls. The only requirement is a return to the sources of knowledge out of which the ancient Sumerians and Egyptians could draw, and out of which as well the masons themselves drank according to him, even though he himself is not a mason.

A conversation with Gert Kramer is an exciting experience; rapidly subjects pass by like the Fibonacci numerical sequence, the experience of unity of Buddha, vibrations that numb dolphins and the music of the spheres that becomes audible when instruments are tuned according to the 'Divine 9'. Is Gert Kramer only raving? No, there is a hermetic consistency to his argument, which also enchants the listener skeptical to universal truth pretensions. Overwhelmed by an avalanche of examples of the role that the number 9 plays in just about all spheres of life, inevitably the question arises: but does it also mean something? Gert Kramer does not believe in chance and sees signs everywhere that prove the causal and organic correspondence of everything with everything. But we can also gratefully accept apparently significant correlations and synchronicities as small gifts that accrue to us if we are open. As such one can accept the enthusiastic plea of Gert Kramer as a colorfully wrapped spiritual surprise. He has no difficulty with that: "What I am is determined by the person who observes me."

Willem Verstraaten

Asked for a short text in order to introduce himself to the readers, Gert Kramer says:
"The description of what I am and do is simple:
'Eheyeh Asher Eheyeh ', 'I Will Be Whatever I Will Be'."
